Leading Parent Partnership Award

23rd March 2022

Dear Curwen Families,

We are writing to inform you that we have recently reapplied to be reassessed for a national award in recognition of how we engage parents/carers at Curwen. For a long time, the relationship between school and home has been at the heart of Curwen's successes and we feel that it is important to celebrate this in the form of the 'Leading Parent Partnership Award' (LPPA). We have held this award since 2017 and it is due for renewal.

The aim is to continue all of the amazing work that currently already goes on, as well exploring further ideas and strategies suggested by staff, parents, governors and pupils.

As always, by working as a TEAM we hope that this national recognition demonstrates our commitment to engaging parents through fully involving you with your child's education and highlighting the value that we place on this special partnership.

If you have any questions please do not hesitate to come and speak to us about this. Alternatively, please visit the <https://www.awardplace.co.uk/award/lppa> to find out more about this award.

May we again take this opportunity to thank you for your support and involvement so far this year.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Potter

Assistant Head teacher for KS1 & Community
