

Together Everyone Achieves More

Dear Parents and Carers,

Today is a sad day at Curwen as we say goodbye to our very cute and fluffy ducklings. It is hard to say who has enjoyed them more out of the children and the staff! We hope it has been a memorable learning experience, and the children have produced some lovely work in class. Thank you as always to Ms Fuller, our mother duck, for looking after the ducklings so well.

It was lovely to welcome our governors to school on Tuesday. They spent a whole day walking around, looking at books and even had school dinners with the children! They were very impressed with the hard work of the staff and the amazing high standards of work by the children. We hope that you managed to speak to them in the playground.

We were very pleased this week that it was confirmed that we have retained our Inclusion Quality Mark Flagship Status. This was following a day's inspection by an external advisor. A massive well done to all staff and our Inclusion Team for all the hard work that meant we received this accolade.

Please remember that Thursday 5th May is a working at home day for everyone due to the local elections being held at school. All children will be sent home with work on Wednesday which teachers will explain to them. Zoom details will also be sent out on Wednesday. Children should bring work completed back to school on Friday where they will have time to discuss it.

This weekend we wish Eid Mubarak to all of our families who are celebrating. If your child is off on Tuesday, please report this on Tuesday morning only. If you report it on Monday evening, unfortunately it doesn't feed through on our attendance system properly.

Have a nice long weekend

Mr Harris and Mrs Mansfield

RE conference

This week, 6 children in year 2 got to go on a special RE conference Day. They all really enjoyed their day. They went to talk and share their ideas about different religions. They also engaged in a creative activity inspired by what they learnt and discussed.

School Closed

Please be aware that school will be closed on Monday 2nd May as it is a bank holiday, and Thursday 5th May due to polling day. Children will be provided with work to do at home on Thursday.
