

CURWEN WEEKLY

Together Everyone Achieves More

Dear parents and carers

This week we celebrate the maturity and hard work of our wonderful year 6 children. Along with children across England, this week they have taken part in the SATs assessments. It has been a very busy and nerve-inducing week, but we are all massively proud of how well they have managed the week and the fantastic effort they have all made. They certainly did SHINE! A big thank you also goes to all the staff involved for keeping the children positive, and all their hard work. Please rest assured that the learning will not end for them, but we also have lots of extra activities planned for them to enjoy in their last few months with us.

We also had our wonderful year 1 children present their RE assembly on Zoom. There was a very good turnout of parents, so thank you to everyone that attended. We are sure that you agree how important it is that children learn about all the fantastic religions in our wonderfully diverse community.

We have spoken to the children this week about peer pressure, and the importance of them following their own moral compass. There have been several incidents where children have done things they admit that they know was wrong or not allowed, but because someone 'told them' to do it or that it was OK. We know that children are learning and will not always make the best choices, but please do reinforce this with them at home. We really think that it is important for the children to develop their voice and confidence and be able to say 'no!' to something they are not comfortable with.

We hope that you have a lovely weekend. We will be looking for information of local activities for the half term holidays and will share these with you on studybugs.

Have a lovely weekend!

SATS are finished and we are so proud of how hard you have all worked.

It was lovely to see our International Week featured in Newham Voices this month.

Newham Voices May 2024

Family week brings colour and joy

A kaleidoscope of colour and joy was expressed during International Family Week at Curwen Primary School with a celebration including a Parent Food Competition, Mini World Experience, All About Me, Fashion Show, and Carnival. Barack, a pupil in 4G, said: "In our class we are doing Colombia. We are doing language, geography and people, and coffee production. When I went to Year 6, they had a quiz about the language they speak in Trinidad and Tobago." The week concluded with a carnival featuring costume, dance and music, all Curwen Primary School, International Week of which was coordinated by the school's PE team. Children from Nursery to Year 6 learned choreographed dance movements based on music from countries they are learning about. Parents were invited to school to help their children create costumes for their carnival performances.
